

The Mason Community Arts Academy at George Mason University seeks candidates for the position of Teaching Artist of cello. Candidates must support the mission and educational program needs of the Academy. He or she will maintain an active studio of private students. The candidate must have significant experience as a private teacher who understands the needs and capabilities of the developing performer at all stages of artistic development. It is preferred that the candidate has experience teaching virtually. He or she is expected to create a nurturing, yet challenging teaching and performance environment that fosters successful learning. The candidate is expected to take an active role in recruiting and retaining students. They may also have an opportunity to coach chamber music and/or teach group classes. Master of Music, or performance equivalent, with substantial professional performance and demonstrated teaching experience is required.

Please send resume, application, and two letters of reference to academy@gmu.edu. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Mason Community Arts Academy is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to creating an institutional environment free from discrimination and harassment based on race, color, sex, marital status, religion, creed, national origin, disability, age, military or veteran status, sexual orientation, family relationship to an employee of the Academy, and gender identity and expression.